the parch'd earth en - rich - ing show'rs,
pas - tures of de - light we feed,

the parch'd earth en - rich - ing show'rs,
pas - tures of de - light we feed,

8 the parch'd earth en - rich - ing show'rs,
pas - tures of de - light we feed,

the parch'd earth en - rich - ing show'rs, The grove, the gar - den pas - tures of de - light we feed, Then let us praise him

The grove, the gar - den and the field, The grove, the gar - den
Then let us praise him all our days, Then let us praise him

The grove, the gar - den
Then let us praise him

8 The grove, the gar - den and the field,
Then let us praise him all our days,

and the field, The grove, the gar - den all our days, Then let us praise him

3. He makes the grassy food arise,
And gives the cattle large supplies;
With herbs for man, of various power
To nourish nature, or to cure.
4. What noble fruit the vines produce!
The olive yields a pleasing juice;
Our hearts are cheer'd with gen'rous wine,
His gifts proclaim His love divine.
5. His bounteous hands our table spread;
He fills our cheerful stores with bread;
While food our daily strength imparts,
Let daily praise inspire our hearts.
6. Vast are thy works, almighty Lord,
All nature rests upon thy word,
And the whole race of creatures stand,
Waiting their portion from thy hand.

'Garden' was found by Larry Gordon in Wyeth's Repository of Sacred Music, 1813, attributed to 'Newcomb'. The composer has not been identified to date. This setting from Northern Harmony, 3rd edition, 1995, with permission.
